

Rail Service to and from Frankfurt Airport to Cologne / Siegburg / Bonn

Frankfurt Airport has two railway stations

The long-distance railway station (Fernbahnhof) is at the AIRail Terminal, right next to Terminal 1. Terminal 2 is linked to the Fernbahnhof via airport buses and the Sky Line train (all complimentary).

(The local railway station for S-Bahn, regional and local trains is at Terminal 1, Level 1, i.e. for Frankfurt city.)

Trains to and from Bonn /Cologne/Siegburg stop at the Fernbahnhof.

To buy a ticket:

You can buy long-distance (to Bonn et al) rail tickets at the Travel Centers One Travel Center is located at Terminal 1, Level 0, in Hall B, and the other directly at the AIRail Terminal, Level 3. Opening hours: Daily 6.00 - 22.30 hrs (6am - 10:30pm)

You have 2 ticket options to/from Frankfurt airport:

- 1) the express ICE train stops in Siegburg (45 minutes) or Cologne (57 minutes); one-way costs approx. € 53,--
- 2) fast trains (IC, RE), with or without train changes (approx. 1 ½ hours), stop at Bonn Hauptbahnhof/central station in the city center of Bonn; one-way costs approx. €35. This is the wonderful scenic trip up the beautiful Rhine: watch for the Loreley, and for castles and ruins on both sides of the river!

Getting from Siegburg station to Bonn city center

Siegburg is 10 km northeast of Bonn.

To get to Bonn, take tram line 66 in direction Bad Honnef/Ramersdorf. The platform in Siegburg is on the lower level of the Siegburg train station (take the elevator down). The trip is 25-minutes to the Bonn central train station (arrival underground), and it costs approx. €4,10 one way.

A taxi from Siegburg to Bonn costs approx. € 30 and takes at least 15 minutes, depending on traffic. (Please note that taxi receipts are not generally reimbursable).

Getting from Cologne central station to Bonn city center

Cologne is 30 km north of Bonn. Every few minutes trains going south pass through Bonn, but check the schedule to make sure they actually stop at Bonn Hauptbahnhof. You can buy a ticket for €6,50 one way. The trip takes approx. 15 minutes.
